Boston Tea Party
(Bicentennial Series)

This series, with a design which combines the celebration of 1773 when organized citizens dumped chests of tea into Boston Harbor in protest of the British tax on tea, commemorates the event that marks the Bicentennial of the American Revolution.

The British Parliament passed and passed the Boston Tea Party to punish what Americans called the Boston Tea Party. This series commemorates the event.

Postage and postage paid for the Boston Tea Party Stamp, Postmaster, Boston, MA 02101, featuring the special cancellation which is flat and unfolded, with special cancellation on date July 4.

10-cent ZIP Code Stamp

A 10¢ ZIP Code stamp, one of three of the same denomination to be issued for use when prepaid and postal rates go into effect on January 5, will be issued in Washington, DC on January 4, 1974.

The theme of the stamp is based upon a poster created by Harold McQuay, a Postal Service artist, who also did the design work. Both the poster and the stamp underline the importance of the ZIP Code in having the most accuracy and efficiency. The modern ZIP design shows several stages of transportation by which the mail is sorted and conveyed the message "It all depends on ZIP Code."

Postage for first day cancellation should be addressed to: 10¢ ZIP Code Stamp, Postmaster, Washington, DC 20512, with proper cancellation and with requests postmarked no later than January 4, 1974.
